

MORE PLAIN ENGLISH

Rewrite the following sentences, using simpler, plainer English.

1. When it happened, I was at the age of five years old.

2. At the table, there was a conglomeration of individuals listening to a rendition of the Orange Pickers' Song.

3. What made the cave unusual was the change of daytime temperature of 102 degrees outside temperature to about 55 degrees temperature inside the cave.

4. Margot consulted with her spouse concerning the acquisition of a new automobile.

5. Upon entering the house, I perceived the presence of a faint odor of gas.

6. I think the idea of doing something together as a family unit helps us to form a stronger family bond.

7. Through personal experience, I have noticed for the most part that when people are placed in a learning situation in which material contrary to their beliefs is being pressed upon them, they will not be receptive to the material being presented.

8. When asked whether she was satisfied with her remuneration, she replied in the affirmative.

9. Her impecunious relatives expected her to purchase nourishment and apparel for them.

10. His indulging in intoxicating beverages was one of the contributing factors in his divorce.

11. Cosmetic advertisements use the method of sex appeal in their ads.

12. Few people accomplish the asset of ignoring gossip circulated about them by thoughtless persons.
