

JARGON

See if you can decipher the following into clear, concise language. There are sayings you should recognize hiding in there!

1. On the one hand, it is my immense pleasure to offer felicitations and glad tidings; however, that task is coupled to the necessity for the deliverance of a missive of a more grievous nature.
2. Significant segments of a diurnal period can be consumed and utilized without any particular awareness when an individual is engaged in pursuits of a type exemplified by frolic and leisurely diversion.
3. Careful consideration of relevant data is imperative before the procedure most conducive toward a realization of the desired outcomes can be determined.
4. Elimination of excessive nose pollution enhances the value of the immediate environment.
5. Younger members of the human species, while immensely appealing in terms of visual impact, should avoid unnecessary assaults on the auditory faculties of other primates who inhabit a proximate region.
6. Abhorrence and avoidance of the proclivity of humanoids to prevaricate may prove to encompass the most judicious course with reference to the desired long-range outcome.
7. When a trait is evidenced in the paternal member of the socioeconomic domestic grouping, the likelihood of transferal of transmittal to a puerile member increases dramatically.