

HEADLINERS

Try your hand at reporting by writing the stories that are missing from the headlines printed below. Remember that in a newspaper article, the major plot points should be brought out in the first paragraph. So aim for an opening that includes as many of the “5 w’s and an h” as possible. (This means answering who, what, when, where, why, and how in the beginning of your story.)

AMERICAN SETS NEW OLYMPIC RECORD	BANK ROBBER CAUGHT BY TOY POODLE	LOCAL TEEN CLAIMS TO HAVE SPENT WEEK ABOARD UFO
NEW BURT REYNOLDS MOVIE TO BE FILMED IN OUR TOWN	FRISBEE CHAMPION WINS ATHLETIC SCHOLARSHIP TO DOWNSTATE UNIVERSITY
MAYOR AWARDS MEDAL TO 5-YEAR-OLD BOY	CARS BANNED FROM DOWNTOWN AREA
